College Advance (formerly Project Advance) Learning Community

What is the College Advance Learning Community?

College Advance (*formerly*Project Advance[1]) in the College of Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences (CAHSS) is coordinated by the dean and faculty members in CAHSS.
It links first-year students in three areas: English Composition I and US History since 1865 (Fall semester) and English Composition II and Critical Thinking/Philosophy (Spring semester). Students are expected to continue as a cohort by registering for African American Literature I in the fall sophomore year and Global Societies in their fall junior year.
course meets General Education Breadth requirements*
