Delaware Gov. Jack Markell has appointed Leroy A. Tice, a Wilmington attorney, to serve as a member of the Delaware State University Board of Trustees.

Mr. Tice, who is also an alumnus of DSU, has been appointed to finish the six-year term of Dr. Lillian A. Lowery, who resigned from the board earlier this month. In completing Dr. Lowery's term, Mr. Tice's current appointment lasts until Oct. 17, 2014.

A native of Milford and a 1987 graduate of Milford High School, Mr. Tice is a member of both the Delaware State Bar Association and the New Jersey State Bar Association. Mr. Tice is currently an attorney with the Wilmington firm of Aber, Goldlust, Baker & Over, where he focuses on workmen compensation matters, employment discrimination, civil rights and personal injury claims.

He is a member of the Delaware Bar Association's Multicultural Judges and Lawyers Section, the Delaware Trial Lawyers, as well as the National Employment Lawyers Association. He also serves as an outside counsel for the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) and as a special hearing officer for the Prestige Academy, a Wilmington charter school.

He has a Bachelor of Arts in Political Science from Delaware State University and later earned a Juris Doctor from Seton Hall University School of Law.
