DSU Arts Center/Gallery Exhibits Works of George Lorio

Posted: September 5, 2012

Delaware State University?s Arts Center/Gallery is featuring the work of art faculty member George Lorio in a show entitled ?Current Work? until Sept. 21.

The exhibition at the Arts Center/Gallery? located inside the first floor entrance of the William C. Jason Library on campus? is free and open to the public.

Mr. Lorio, an associate professor in the DSU Art Program, is exhibiting 13 sculpture and installation artworks in the show. His works express his views on a variety of social issues.

The artist and his works will be honored during a reception from 3-5 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 6 in the Arts Center/Gallery. Mr. Lorio will also share insights as an artist into his work during a gallery talk at 11 a.m. Thursday, Sept. 20 also at the Arts Center/Gallery.

Mr. Lorio is starting his second year as a DSU faculty member. He came to DSU from Texas where he taught at the University of Texas at Brownsville. He teaches 3D design, 2D design, ceramics and drawing courses.
