

College of Business Advisement Center

Welcome to the College of Business Advisement Center!

On behalf of the COBAC advisors, it is my pleasure to welcome you. Our mission is to provide academic advisement to students pursuing a degree program in Business during the sophomore year. Our professional advisors offer services based on current curriculum requirements to assist students with aligning their academic goals with career opportunities as they transition to graduate school and the world of work.

We are very excited that you are interested in pursuing a degree program in business, and your success is very important to us. Academic advisement is an important partnership between the student and the advisor. Please make certain to remain in close contact with your academic advisor about your progress, and know that we will work tirelessly on your behalf.

We look forward to working with you and invite you to visit our center in suite 108 of the Bank of America Building. Feel free to contact us at cobac@desu.edu [1] or 302.857.6971.

Mission

The College of Business Advisement Center's mission is to provide academic advisement to students pursuing a degree program in Business during the sophomore year. Our professional advisors offer services based on current curriculum requirements to assist students with aligning their academic goals with career opportunities as they transition into graduate studies and the world of work.

Advisement Model

Our academic advisement model fosters the student developmental process and provides coaching for the following human relation skills:

- Positive Attitude
- Strong Communication Skills
- Conflict Resolution Skills
- Good Judgment/Decision Making Skills

Objectives

- Provide best practices in assisting students with informational resources to explore education and career options through mandatory academic advisement processes.
- Assist students with identifying personal interests and establishing a correlation between academic and career goals.
- Our academic advisement model exposes students to a more personal connection with their assigned advisor, thus making a valuable contribution of developing a mentor/mentee relationship.
- The Advisement Center is committed to university retention efforts by considering the sensitive nature of students' personal needs and concerns.
- We provide students with assessment and feedback to keep them well informed of their academic progress. Our goal is to prepare students for a seamless transition into graduate programs and careers.

Individual Development Plans (IDP)

Every Freshman will have an Individual Development Plan that will set the stage for each student's path to success. The IDP will focus on academic goals and support, as well as co-curricular pathway through which students will develop highly valuable soft skills and leadership skills that employers seek. To increase business acumen, students will be exposed to industry professionals via mentorships, guest speakers, workshops, internships, conferences, field trips and business case competitions.

Advisement Assignments

To promote effective advisement, each student is assigned an advisor upon their declaration of a major in the College of Business. Each advisor establishes a caring and working relationship with students while helping them clarify goals. The Director of the Advisement Center and the Career & Academic Advisors monitor academic progress.

Seniors are assigned to the department chairperson in their area of study.

Registration - The College of Business Advisement Center works closely with the departments during the registration process. During the pre-registration and registration period, each student must make an appointment with his/her advisor to review their selection of courses for the next semester, summer classes, or classes requested to take at another institution. Students should bring with them a course request form and a copy of their student transcript to assure accurate advisement.
